

The Dream...

The dream is a fire that is lit from within

The dream is the fire that makes all things begin

The dream is the fire that brings warmth and hope in the midnight hour

The dream is what takes us higher and higher into His glory and His power!

Don't let one day go by where you are not living the dream or in pursuit of it,

The one He gives, the one you're supposed to live

Pursue the dream, relentlessly, passionately, fiercely, aggressively, boldly, and unceasingly,

No matter what you see, think, or feel

For the only proof of your desire is your pursuit!

Your destiny is and always will be entirely in your hands...

Just do it!
